ABOUT US

PWEA exists to enhance the knowledge and abilities of Pennsylvania's water quality professionals, promote sound sustainable water policies, and promote public awareness of the need to protect water resources. We accomplish this through:

Continuing Education:

We are a PADEP accredited training and exam provider offering continuing education opportunities to members and non-members who find it necessary to maintain an operator's license and/or earn Professional Development Hours for maintaining professional licenses.

Annual Technical Conference:

One of the largest technical conferences and exhibitions devoted to water quality in Pennsylvania allows participants to earn continuing education credit by attending technical sessions and workshops.

OTHER BENEFITS

Registration Discounts:

Although non-members can participate in PWEA's continuing education events, the Annual Technical Conference & Exhibition, and certifications exams, members receive discounted registration fees. In fact, one discounted registration will typically more than cover your entire annual PWEA membership fee!

KWQM:

The Keystone Water Quality Manager, a quarterly technical publication, serves as a source of news and information to our members on problem solving case histories, legislative updates, design/process operations articles, advanced notice of continuing education, and highlighting current technology trends and issues affecting water quality. Members are able to view a digital copy of the publication at any time, when logged into their member account.

Job Board:

Employment positions are posted to PWEA's website when received and are viewable at any time by members and non-members. A link to the Job Board is also included in the monthly eNewsletter.

eNewsletter:

PWEA's monthly eNewsletter, a member-only benefit, is issued via email and is also accessible by members when logged into their member account. This electronic publication provides time-sensitive information to members.

Exchange of Ideas:

PWEA promotes and fosters networking opportunities with our members to share their experiences and provide a platform to collaborate and learn.
